Numb. [illegible]

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 8, 1744.

Madrid, July 21.

THE King has demanded a Free-Gift of the Nobility of 100,000 Pieces of Eight, to buy the Dauphineſs Jewels, according to the uſual Cuſtom. There are ſtill great Diviſions among our Miniſtry; but, at preſent, the French Party is, and is like to be, the moſt prevailing. It is not long ago that the French [illegible], in an Audience he had of their Majeſties, aſ[illegible] them, that the King his Maſter had the Intereſt [illegible] Philip infinitely at Heart; and, as a Proof of it, [illegible] the Declarations of War againſt Great Britain and [illegible] Queen of Hungary, which were requiſite only to [illegible] the King an Opportunity to exert his whole Force [illegible] the Service of that Prince; and, at the ſame Time [illegible]ved, that if War was not declared againſt the King [illegible]rdinia, it was only that an Opportunity might be [illegible]pen of entering into a Negotiation with that Prince, [illegible]ever the Operations of War ſhall render him more [illegible]ible. To facilitate this, a Miniſter has been diſ[illegible]ched from hence to the Camp of the Royal Infant, [illegible] freſh Offers for the King of Sardinia; and, among [illegible]reſt, one of a very extraordinary Nature, which is [illegible]yield to him the whole Duchy of Milan, with a con[illegible]ble Addition out of the Patrimonial Dominions of [illegible] Houſe of Farneſe; and even the Marquiſate of Final, [illegible] the Genoeſe can be prevailed upon to part with it, [illegible]ther for Money, or an Equivalent in Territory. It i[illegible]ewiſe whiſpered here, that this Miniſter has Powers [illegible]reat of a Marriage for the Duke of Savoy with a [illegible]rtain Princeſs; to which Match, the King, his Fa[illegible]her, was formerly much inclined.

Rheims, Auguſt 1. The King arrived on Wedneſday [illegible]ſt, about Two in the Afternoon, at Laon. We have [illegible]here a very extraordinary Piece of News, if it be true; [illegible]but whether it be true or not, it is News, and News [illegible]that makes a great Noiſe here. It is ſaid, that his Ma[illegible]jeſty has ſent for Cardinal Tencin, in order to be cer[illegible]tainly informed as to the Conduct of the M. de la Che[illegible]tardie in Ruſſia; a Memorial having been preſented to [illegible]his Majeſty on the Road, containing a heavy Charge [illegible]againſt that Marquis; and a Suggeſtion, that the Nor[illegible]thern Courts, by general Conſent, had reſolved to eſtabliſh [illegible]as an inviolable Rule of Government, never to permit [illegible]any Miniſters from France, except ſuch as have the Cha[illegible]racters of Ambaſſadors Extraordinary, to enter their Do[illegible]minions, in order to prevent their carrying on private [illegible]Intrigues among their Subjects. This ſeems to be con[illegible]firmed by an Expreſs from the Marquis de Laumarie, [illegible]who reſides at the Court of Stockholm; where, ſince [illegible]the Detection of the M. de Chetardie's Plot, as it is [illegible]ſaid, he has been forced to live, as it were, incognito, [illegible]without receiving or paying any Viſits; which is thought [illegible]to be owing to the known Complaiſance of the Swediſh [illegible]Court for that of Ruſſia. The Friends of Cardinal Ten[illegible]cin give another Turn to this Order, and would have us [illegible]believe, the King has ſent for that Miniſter, in order [illegible]to have his Opinion, as to the General to whom his Ma[illegible]jeſty ſhall confide the Command of his Army on the [illegible]Rhine.

From the King of Sardinia's Head Quarters at St. Pierre, July 24, N. S. in the Evening.

The Enemy continues in the Eminences at the two Poſts of Bicoque and Pierre-longe, which they took from us, without taking any Step, from which we can judge, whether they intend to advance towards Saluze, or throw themſelves into the Valley of Stura, in order to join the Body of their Troops, which has already appeared in the Neighbourhood of Demont. It is thought, that the Reaſon of their thus ſuſpending their Operations, is, their expecting the coming up of their Artillery and Cavalry. The King has aſſembled ſeveral Corps, which were at a Diſtance; and is taking all the moſt proper Meaſures to prevent the Enemy's reaping any further Benefit from the ſmall Advantage they have had over us. His Majeſty has already with him 24 Battalions, and continues poſted between St. Pierre and La Tourette, which is within two Miles of Chateau Dauphin. All the Cavalry and Guards are ordered to incamp near Saluze. The Marquis Palavicini is to take Poſt, with eleven Battalions, and ſome Bodies of Horſe which he commands, at the Bridge of Ulla, upon the Stura, which is half Way between Demont and Coni, to be in the Way to harraſs the Enemy, if they undertake the Siege of Demont. However, it is not yet known with any Certainty, whether they will begin by the Siege of that Place, or of Coni. An exact Account having been taken, it is found, that our Loſs, in the Attacks of the 17th, 18th and 19th Inſtant, did not exceed 600 Men. That of the Enemy cannot be leſs than 3000.

Aldermary Church-Yard, Bow-Lane, London, Auguſt 6, 1744.

THE Elements of ALGEBRA, in a New and Easy Method; with their Use and Application, in the Solution of a great Variety of Arithmetical and Geometrical Questions, by General and Universal Rules.

To which is prefix'd, An Introduction containing a succinct History of this Science.

By Mr. NATHANIEL HAMMOND, of the Bank.

Extract from the Account of this Book in the Works of the Learned.

'The World has long complained of the Want of a proper 'Introduction to Algebra. Some are so very concise, as if 'they were contrived not to teach but introduce a Teacher; 'others again are larger, but wrote with so little Condescen'tion to the Understandings of such as are altogether unac'quainted with the Science, that they are of very little Use 'to those who are most inclined to make use of them. Whence 'it comes to pass, that few find it practicable to make any 'Progress in Algebra without a Master, tho' certainly the Sci'ence in itself is far from surpassing a clear Head, and a tole'rable Understanding.

'The Design of this Treatise, which is of a reasonable Bulk, 'and which contains nothing which is not solid, and to the 'Purpose, is to assist such as are engaged in teaching Algebra 'with a regular Method, and a large Stock of Examples; so 'that their Scholars may find Employment in their Absence; 'and to enable such as live in Country-Places, and must con'sequently want all other Tutors, except Books, to acquire 'such a Skill in this Science, as may enable them to spend a 'Portion of their Time agreeably in the Cultivation of their 'better Parts, and in rendering a natural Method of enqui'ring after Truth habitual.

'The Treatise begins with a copious Explication of the 'Fundamental Principles of the Art, and of the Signs and 'Method of Notation used therein. The Author then pro'ceeds to the several Rules, explaining them carefully and 'copiously in all their various Cases; so that with a moderate 'Attention it is simply impossible for a Person, who desires to 'be Master of Algebra, to miss of his End.

'We never find this Writer advancing any thing out of its 'proper Place, or burthening the Mind of his Scholar with 'Rules, befor ethey become necessary: He professes to have 'imitated the judicious Euclid in this Respect; and he has 'done it with equal Art and Felicity. By this means he has 'delivered the young Student in Algebra from that which is 'usually the most fatiguing Part of the Science, viz. The 'Doctrine of Surds, in the Manner in which it is usually 'taught. By the same Means he leads his Reader directly to 'Equations; and, by shewing him the Profit he will reap 'from this Science, encourages him to overcome all its Diffi'culties. But having thus laid a strong and rational Founda'tion, he moves more slowly through the rest of his Work, 'that whoever follows him, may be obliged to become Master 'of every Branch of the Art, so as to be a compleat Algebraist, 'before he quits his Book, and not a Smatterer.

'Quadratic Equations, and the Art of managing Converge'ing Series, the admirable Invention of the incomparable 'Newton, are here so clearly explained, and their several Ca'ses so plainly set down, and so thoroughly explicated, that it 'may be truly said, there are no where else such Instructions 'to be met with. At the Close of the Book, we find abund'ance of Observations, necessary for enlightening such Minds 'as are willing to proceed still farther in analytic Discoveries; 'so that considering the Compass of this Work, and that too 'is very moderate, it is as complete as possibly can be expect'ed: And he who is thoroughly versed in it, will find no great 'Difficulties, when he proceeds to sublimer Studies. The 'Language is plain and natural, the Book is more copious 'than any other in Examples, and the Illustrations of them 'are so full and clear, that it is impossible to mistake their 'Meaning.'
